CLASS ACTION

Judge James B. Zagel

JOINT STATUS REPORT

1. On May 7, 2015, the Parties (Plaintiffs and Defendants) appeared before the Court on Randy Nunez's Motion to Intervene and Appoint Interim Lead Counsel [Dkt. 205]. At the hearing, the Court found the Motion to be premature given that Nunez's counsel had not yet seen the classwide Settlement Agreement between the Parties, and therefore could not determine if in fact Nunez would have any reason to intervene in the case.

2. The Court accordingly instructed all parties, including Nunez's Counsel, to meet and confer within two weeks of the filing of Plaintiffs' Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement, in order to determine if Nunez had any objections to the settlement and, if so, whether those objections could be resolved prior to the Preliminary Approval Hearing.

3. Plaintiffs' Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement was filed on May 14, 2015 [Dkt. 212, 213].

4. The Parties' Counsel and Nunez's Counsel held a meet and confer on May 26, 2015. The Parties hereby report to the Court on the outcome of that meet and confer.

5. Nunez's Counsel reported that they had reviewed the Settlement Agreement and that their "chief objection" was that they had not been involved in the negotiation process. They stated that they intended to continue to oppose the Settlement Agreement on the ground that they had been appointed interim lead counsel in the Nunez case. The Parties' counsel stated that they would continue to maintain the position that they had previously taken, i.e., that appointment of interim lead counsel in the Nunez case, a separate case, has no bearing on these cases involving separate counsel and different plaintiffs.

6. Nunez's Counsel contended that the settlement should have been run through a District Court in the Ninth Circuit, which they believe is a more favorable forum for settlement approval. The Parties' counsel explained that they saw no reason not to present the new Settlement to this Court, particularly given the fact that the new Settlement satisfies the concerns previously raised by the Seventh Circuit.

7. Nunez's Counsel then inquired about the cy pres provision. The Parties' counsel explained that the cy pres provision would only kick in if money still remained in the fund after all claimants' payments had been increased pro rata up to $200 per household – a scenario that was unlikely to take place. The Parties also explained that paying a claimant more than $200 would create a windfall for some claimants and also incentivize potential fraud in the filing of claims. Upon being given this explanation, Nunez's counsel made no suggestion of how to alter the claims process set forth in the settlement agreement.

8. Nunez's Counsel asked why direct notice was not going to the entire class, and the Parties' counsel explained that direct notice was going to all class members for whom Defendants have mailing address or emails, and that the unknown class members – who bought through a retailer – would receive publication notice with a notice program similar to the previous program, to which no one had objected.

9. Given the fact that Nunez's Counsel did not ask the Parties to change any of the terms of the Settlement Agreement, the Parties wish to go forward with their Motion for Preliminary Approval of the Class Action Settlement Agreement.

10. Pursuant to this Court's Minute Entry of May 7, 2015, Plaintiffs will respond to the Motion to Intervene separately.
